

Please keep the non call list as it is. why do you think that people sign up for it in the first place? You would think that having so many people sign up for it would give the telemarketers a hint that people don't like to be bugged with their useless calls.